THE MIAMI DADE URBAN DEBATE LEAGUE IN PERSON AT LAST!

After three years operating remotely, the Miami Dade Urban Debate League is thrilled to announce we are finally back in person! In an effort to promote the health and safety of everyone amid the onset of the global pandemic, MDUDL resorted to remote operations.

Our team would like to express our gratitude to our debaters, board members, sponsors, alumni and the Miami-Dade community at large. It is your continued support of our mission to empower Miami-Dade students that has helped us get to this point today.

This return to in-person activities—kicking off with our 2023 Summer Debate Institute camp—is a significant milestone for our organization, and we're eager to take advantage of the opportunities that come with it. Thank you again to everyone who has been a part of this journey, and we look forward to debating with you all in person!

Tjermaine "Tj" Adams is a junior at Morehouse College, majoring in philosophy and minoring in economics, with plans of going to law school after earning his undergraduate degree. Adams started speech & debate as a sophomore at Miami Carol City Senior High and continued competing in the activity throughout high school. MDUDL welcomes you to read excerpts of Adam's interview, conducted by Lauren Nieto, where he discusses the impact debate has made in his life.

MDUDL: How did debate change your life as both a student and a person?

Tjermaine "Tj" Adams: Debate allowed me to gain confidence in a lot of different aspects of my life: in my intelligence, in my speaking abilities and in my self-image. Because of debate, I am now in college and am attempting to go to law school.

MDUDL: What was the most significant moment in your debate career?

Adams: One of my first debates was centered around the question, "Should Catalonia get its independence from Spain?" and it was my favorite debate due to the amount of knowledge that it opened.

Before it, I had never even thought about the issues that were happening overseas, and this debate opened my mind and expanded my perspective.

MDUDL: What in particular do you like about Policy debate?

Adams: I think that the most fun part of Policy debate is learning how to set up a perfect neg case, to the point where it tells a beautiful story. Aligning your disads perfectly with the kritik and topicality makes me truly feel like debate is an art.

MDUDL: What is a piece of advice that you want to share with current debaters?

Adams: Fall in love with debate. Debate is amazing, it can get you into college but it can also become something that you really love. I think that current debaters should really embrace debate because when you are in a debate and have the perfect argument, it is something quite beautiful. There is an element of beauty in debate, and when you really learn to just love the activity, you can appreciate it a lot more.
